

Psalm 30:4

Sing praise to the Lord, you saints of his, and give thanks at the remembrance of his holy name.

Sing praise:

Zamar-striking with the fingers; to touch the strings or parts of a musical instrument, i.e. play upon it; to make music, accompanied by the voice; hence to celebrate in song and music.

Thanks:

Yadah-to use (i.e. hold out) the hand; physically, to throw (a stone, an arrow) at or away; especially to revere or worship (with extended hands); intensively, to bemoan (by wringing the hands).

Remembrance:

Zeker-recollection, commemoration.

Possible translation: Play your musical instrument, make music accompanied by the voice and celebrate the Lord in song and music. Lift your hands to revere and worship the Lord as you recall and commemorate the sacredness of his character.

The Greek word, psallo, used in the New Testament is comparable to zamar. Psallo means to rub or touch the surface, to twitch or twang, i.e. to play on a stringed instrument (celebrate the divine worship with music and accompanying odes. It is used in 1 Corinthians 14:15 and James 5:13.)
