

Psalm 69:30

I will praise the name of God with a song, and will magnify him with thanksgiving.
(NKJV)

Praise:

Halal-to be clear (orig. of sound, but usually of color); to shine; hence, to make a show, to boast; and thus to be (clamorously) foolish; to rave; causatively, to celebrate; also to stultify

Name:

Shem-through the idea of definite and conspicuous position; an appellation, as a mark or memorial of individuality; by implication honor, authority, character

God:

'Elohiym-gods in the ordinary sense; but specifically used (in the plural thus, especially with the article) of the supreme God; occasionally applied by way of deference to magistrates; and sometimes as a superlative

Song:

Shiyr-a song; abstractly, singing

Magnify:

Gadal-to twist, i.e. to be or make large (in various senses, as in body, mind, estate or honor, also in pride)

Thanksgiving:

Towdah-an extension of the hand, i.e. (by implication) avowal, or (usually) adoration; specifically, a choir of worshippers

In this Psalm David seems to be declaring that he is going to make a fool of himself as he celebrates in song the honor, authority and character of God. He further wants to make it clear that the one he is boasting about holds the conspicuous position of the supreme God and there is no other like him. David goes on to say that he will magnify or make God look large as he acknowledges God's position by lifting his hands in adoration.
